CODE OF CONDUCT

1. Positive behavior is a key expectation for youth participating in 4-H activities – behavior that reflects trustworthiness, respect, responsibility, fairness, caring and citizenship. Counselors are expected to fully participate, follow all event guidelines, and behave as a positive role model for the participants.

- Theft, vandalism, the use of illegal drugs, alcohol, leaving the camp boundaries and other such offenses are strictly prohibited. Anyone involved with these offenses will immediately be sent home and may be dismissed from the Kent County 4-H program. Those engaged in illegal activities will be turned over to the proper authorities. Repair costs for damages incurred to property will be billed to those responsible.

- Youth participants are not permitted to use tobacco in any form.

- Counselors may be dismissed for inappropriate behavior that violates the rights of others, particularly when the behavior is disrespectful regarding a person's gender, race, age, religion, disability or appearance. You may not tease, hurt, or bully anyone, or use language, gestures or actions that will hurt others.

- Counselors should dress casually, but neatly and appropriately for the occasion. Shirt and closed toe shoes/boots must be worn at all times.
